Advanced Assembly Donates More Than $17,000 to American Red Cross for Wildfire Relief

Local Colorado company, employees and customers worked together to raise money

Aurora, CO – August 14, 2012 – Advanced Assembly announced today it will be donating $17,200 to the Colorado Chapter of the American Red Cross in order to help residents impacted by the recent state wildfires. The money was raised through a program developed by Advanced Assembly's in which $50 from every order placed in July was allocated to the American Red Cross, along with direct donations. Employees, customers and management worked together to surpass the company's donation goals, resulting in a record number of both monthly orders and new customers.

"The fires throughout the state have affected so many Colorado residents and we wanted to help in whatever way we could," said Lawrence Davis, CEO and president of Advanced Assembly. "Through the efforts of our dedicated employees and the support of our tremendous customers, we far exceeded our donation goal. All of us at Advanced Assembly sincerely hope the money raised will bring comfort and support to people who are in the midst of rebuilding their lives after the fire disaster."

Advanced Assembly provides pcb assembly services for design engineers worldwide needing fast, low-volume or prototype PCB assembly. In 2004, Advanced Assembly developed a proprietary technology to assemble a few boards at a time and deliver them over 80% faster than the typical industry turn time. The company's year-over-year, double-digit revenue growth proves it is fulfilling a previously unmet need.

Donations to the disaster relief program enable the Red Cross to provide shelter, food, emotional support and other assistance to victims of disasters. During the Colorado wildfires, the Red Cross set up five shelters and provided 350 volunteers. These volunteers gave emotional support to evacuees and helped people meet basic living needs.
